What you need to know during tax time for your HSA

It's tax time and you aren't sure what's needed, or what you need to do regarding your tax-advantaged Health Savings Account (HSA). Sound familiar? Don't worry, we get it.

To help, we've broken down the basics of the forms you'll be receiving, and how you can use those to fill out the forms you'll be submitting. We've also provided some helpful tips so that next year you can be as prepared as possible.

Tax-Forms Provided to You by UMB Bank

UMB Bank will provide the following forms, along with instructions to assist with your HSA-related tax filing.

- IRS Form 1099-SA¹: Annual Distributions made from your HSA (generally received by January 31).
- IRS Form 5498-SA: Annual Contributions made to your HSA (generally received by May 31).

Tax-Forms You Will Use to Report

In either case, the information provided in the forms above will be used to complete IRS form 8889. Here is some helpful information on that form:

- IRS Form 8889 is used to report HSA contributions, distributions and your tax deductions when filing your federal income tax return.

Tip

While these forms are provided to you, it's important to keep track of your eligible medical expenses, as well as your contributions. To help, UMB Bank will also send a Year End Summary² showing the total amount of contributions and distributions for the calendar year.

Tip

Instructions regarding the completion of IRS Form 8889 are provided by the IRS.

Questions?

When you receive your tax forms, 1099-SA and or the 5498-SA, and if you have any questions regarding the information on the form or you feel it is incorrect, please contact London Health Administrators immediately by calling 401-435-4700. Once notified, London Health Administrators will work with you to resolve any differences and, if necessary, file an amended 1099-SA or 5498-SA on your behalf.

¹The distribution types are: normal, excess contributions, removal of excess contribution, death, disability and prohibited transaction.
